CAMP COURAGE

Camp Courage helps children with serious injuries adjust to an atmosphere predicated upon comfort and friendship. Children have the opportunity to be himself or herself in groups that are non-judgmental, outgoing, and friendly; counselors ensure the experience will last a lifetime.

One hundred young burn survivors attended the week-long Arizona Children's Burn Camp, "Camp Courage", up in the Prescott National Forest at Pine Summit. Lots of smiles were seen in the cool pines while campers were horseback riding, mountain biking, fishing, performing skits, making crafts, and pushing their personal skills during the ropes course. Camp Courage attendance is encouraged for all our young friends who have survived a burn (ages 6 – 15 for Campers and ages 16 – 20 for Counselors-In-Training).
